Know Before You Go:

DENTURES AND PARTIALS

Dentures and partials fill gaps left by missing teeth. Choosing between dentures or partials depends how many teeth are missing, bone loss at the site of missing teeth, cost and your own needs and preferences.

Let's take a quick look at each option so you can have an informed discussion with your dentist.

Dentures and Partials

Dentures and partials stay in the mouth temporarily, often with the help of a special adhesive. A dental lab creates dentures individually for each patient, customizing them to fit the space they will fill. The base can be made of resin or metal, and the teeth may be made of porcelain or polymer plastic.

Care for dentures and partials involves:

- Cleaning after each meal and before bed
- Soaking in warm or cold water overnight to protect against drying out or changing shape
- Occasional soaking in a special cleaning solution, according to product instructions
